Dear USDA,

I feel it is time for a change in our milk pricing formula. Almost every other industry can set their prices (based on cost of production, etc.) If

Americans lose their ability to use a little reason with our food supply, we lose everything.

I have heard that the CME market is controlled by a few of the big Co-op guys.

That MUST change.

"Responsible and Renewable Agriculture"

I suggest we stay a little more regional w/ our milk supply. What is the use hauling a bunch of milk into PA. from the West and then shipping ours out?

That gets into a lot of hauling expense for somebody.

On behalf of all dairy farmers
I plead for a change.

Sincerely,

Samuel M. King
